MERRILLVUE

In Memoriam

To Patty Bowen and Peggy Gorrell

Patricia Bowen

Patty and Peggy have left us before they could experience the true sorrows and joys of life. But we in the class of 1965 will always remember them in our minds, and their spirits and smiling faces will linger always in our hearts.

DEATH BE NOT PROUD

Death be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so;
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow
Die not, poor Death; nor yet canst thou kill me.
From Rest and Sleep, which but thy picture be,
Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow
And soonest our best men with thee do go—
Rest of their bones and souls delivery!
Thou'rt slave to Fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell;
And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well
And better than thy stroke. Why swell'st thou then
One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
And Death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die!

Peggy Gorrell

ACTIVITIES

Learning to schedule our time in order to participate in everything we choose is often a hard task. The daily grind often is the most difficult to organize one's activities around. It is hard to remember that without the dull rut none of us could exist. Here are assorted bits and pieces of the interest of the M.H.S. student.

Class of '66 Has Biggest Hit of '63-'64

The Class of '66's sophomore class play, Cheaper By The Dozen, was produced under the direction of Mr. Morrow and student director Sherry Patterson. Performances were given on April 23, 24, and 25 in the high school auditorium.

Best actor, best supporting actress, and best character actress Thespian awards were won by Bill Myer, Janice Burke, and Cathy Mellinger respectfully. The comedy concerning the Gilbrath family proved quite rewarding for the class's first effort in the performing arts.

L. to R.—J. Hadsall, J. Semokaitis, P. Keaton, S. Jones, B. Myer.

The cast of the junior class play, See How They Run, look up with great expectations for a smooth performance on opening night. The cast is as follows: (BOTTOM ROW) J. Kurth, B. Johnson, P. Appleton, C. Mellinger, (SECOND ROW) T. Robinson, D. Teitge, J. Mote, W. Carlson, B. Myer.

The junior class this year presented See How They Run on November 19, 20, 21 in the M.H.S. auditorium. The play was a three act farce that was so swift in action, so involved, and so rib-tickling that it left the audience exhausted from laughter. The Juniors worked diligently under Mr. Morrow's direction, and their reward was a completely successful play.

The people who work behind the scenes for a class play are vital and spend many hours of hard work to make the play a success. Shown above are: M. Djukic, curtain; Mr. Morrow, director; S. Jones, student director; D. Burt, lights; and D. Czarnecki, sound effects.

I am looking Toop, I am!

Seniors Present First Musical Comedy

Looking over the script for the Senior Musical are Tom Novotny, Technical Director; Mr. Reinhart, Musical Director; Tim Nelson, Stage Manager; Mrs. Lynch, Director; Molly Marcancek, Student Director; Jim Nelson, Stage Manager; and Carol Miller, Business Manager.

Mr. MacAfee, Brian Lunsford, contemplates, "What's the matter with kids today?" as Mrs. MacAfee, Judy Kuchar, and Kim, Susy Hayes, admire Conrad Birdie, Rick Shearer.

Bye Bye Birdie, a musical comedy, was presented by the Senior class. The presentation was a fresh, up-to-date satire on teenage idols and their fans.

The greasy-haired, motorcycle-riding idol was to be given "One Last Kiss" by Kim MacAfee before being drafted into the army. The main plot with its subplots created refreshing entertainment for all who attended its performances.

Kim depicts the average teenage girl—eight hours a day on the telephone, talking about boys, clothes, and going steady.

The executive board voted to present a musical for the Senior project; Mrs. Lynch then led the students by directing the production. The cast, being much larger than in previous years, gave sixty members of the class an opportunity to display their talents in the co-ordinated production.

The Choral and Dramatic departments combined talents to produce the first Senior Musical at MHS.

Sophomores Present Their First Mystery

The ten-member cast presented the Sophomore class play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged" by Emlyn Williams. This presentation differed from preceding ones in that it was a suspense-filled drama instead of the traditional comedy types given by the other Sophomore classes.

The playwright was unable to ensnare the imagination of his audience from the rise of the curtain and to hold it spellbound until the finish. That "spooky" feeling charged the air as the cast members unrolled their portrayal of the characters.

Besides being a play of great interest this particular script was blessed with the rare quality of originality. Mr. Raymond Gran skillfully guided the play with the help of student directors, Pat Kay and Linda Brown.

Mr. Gran parted from tradition when he chose a mystery to direct as the Sophomore play.

Carole and Jerry Reign

The originality of the Band float won first prize and helped stimulate the team on to VICTORY.

Carole's radiant smile shines through the half-time rains as Coach Demaree crowns her Homecoming Queen.

Carole Derr was chosen by the entire student body to reign as queen of the 1964-65 Homecoming, the annual work of the Student Council. Her attendants were Marianne Mahoney, Marilyn Gill, and Elaine Belusky. Half-time, adorned by the thrilling performance of the Marching Pirates, brought with it the announcement of the winning floats from the parade, with the Band effort for first place. The week-end also saw the return of alumni to watch the victorious Pirates defeat the Indians of Portage 19-0.

Traditions were changed this year. The queen candidate followed the collegiate idea of no formals at the game's half-time procedures, and the dance, "Indian Summer" with its appropriate decorations, was a turn-about with the largest attendance in several years.

The football team picked from their ranks Jerry Fox as the recipient of the Mr. Football title. Other nominees for this honor were Mike Bikoff, Fred Maihofer, and Wayne Monroe.

Jerry Fox, Mr. Football, proudly accepts congratulations from Janalee Nichols as she gives him the traditional football the entire team has autographed.

Ingenuity and imagination show clearly in the German Club entry in the Homecoming Parade.

Janet and Rick Reign Over "Whispering Sands"

Highlighting last years activities was the Junior-Senior Prom. On the evening of May 3, the MHS gymnasium was transformed into a warm and beautiful night on the Arabian desert. The theme, "Whispering Sands", was illustrated by the colorful Arabian scenery. The formally attired couples danced to the music of Buddy Presner's dance band.

Toward the end of the evening the climax came with the crowning of Janet Hacker and Rick Putz as the new Prom Royalty for 1964. Janet and Rick were chosen from twelve Junior boys and twelve girls.

Refreshments were served by six Sophomore couples, dressed in the native costumes of an Arabian harem and slaves. The girls wore veils over their faces and the boys bright fez hats.

The Post Prom party was given at the Sherwood Club where the couples were entertained by Oscar Hamod and his Majestics.

Craig Smith and Steve Cunningham receive refreshments from server Nancy Ford.

Just before the announcement of the king and queen as all wait anxiously, tension is high.

Gracefully after the Grand March Janet and Rick lead the coronation dance.

Surrounded by the essence of an Arabian desert, the couples drift romantically to Buddy Presner's musical strains.

Because of their outstanding scholastic ability Linda Bishop and Pat O'Hara were ranked as valedictorian and salutatorian respectively of the graduating class of 1965.

Pam Heisterberg was voted by the senior class to be the recipient of the honorable DAR award for outstanding citizenship, patriotism, and scholarship.

Outstanding Students Merit Recognition

Besides the DAR, Betty Crocker Contest winner, Optimist Award winners, valedictorian, and salutatorian pictured here, seniors were also honored by being chosen to attend the Hoosier State held at Indiana University. Representing the class of 1965 were Val Domianus, Cathy Catlow, Glenn Smith, and Greg Smith.

This year's Optimist Clqb award went to Glenn Smith and Pam Heisterberg for their scholarship, leadership, and citizenship.

Carol Miller was awarded the Betty Crocker award by the home economics department. She won this honor by taking a Betty Crocker qualification test.

Thespians Present "Three to Go"

"Act well your part—therein all honor lies." The members of Troupe 1692 were given an opportunity to display their diversity in three one-act plays January.

The first of the trio, The Valiant, relied upon acting ability and needed no detailed scenery for its straight dramatic approach. Still Alarm was a humorous farce in which the emphasis was on underplaying in a sophisticated manner to show the opposite extreme. This scene utilized props, set, and special effects, such as flashing red lights and smoke pouring through the window to denote a fire in a hotel. In the final presentation, Parted on Her Wedding Morn—Or More to be Pitied Than Scorned, the effective use of a hand that propelled snow through an open window was used for extra laughs.

CLUBS

Few will dispute that MHS is a smoother-running school because of its many organizations. Each day the activities of one or more clubs affect us in some way.

Goals and standards are set by each club aside from the services they perform. Members are offered a wide range of varied experiences from attending a hit musical to building floats for the Homecoming parade.

Assistant Drum Major Tom Troup makes sure that he is seen by all.

Band Organizations

A great variety of activities, pep, school spirit, excellence in performance, outstanding competitive record, and personal pride in their own organization are all phrases that seem to typify our excellent high school band, which consistently seems to be striving for perfection.

The "Marching Pirates," Pep Band, Dance Band, and Symphonic Band are all separate groups within the organization performing publicly during the year as well as at special concerts and other programs. A great deal of credit goes to the band for their splendid support of the football and basketball teams. The symphonic Band continues its fine record in state contests with successive first place awards.

Band officers this year are: D. Smith, Pres.; B. Lunsford, V. Pres.; M. Lawrence, Sec. and G. Smith, Treas.

The band adds color as Coach Demaree announces the 1964 Homecoming Queen.

Our School's Pride

The Pep Band lends support and enthusiasm during pep sessions, basketball, and football games.

Head Drum Major Paul Keaton directs the Marching Pirates in pre-game and half-time performances.

The Marching Pirates line up in "M" Formation in a salute to the undefeated Pirate football team.

Vocal Groups and Choirs Ring Out to Many

As always, the Concert Choir was one of the main attractions at the concerts put on by the music department.

Under the direction of Mr. Reinhart the choral department planned a busy, eventful year. Made up of the individual groups—Vocalteens, Merrilletes, Velveteens, and a new group, the Wandering Winds the department with the Concert Choir, Senior Belles and Sophomore Girls' Choir found plenty of performers for the variety of entertainment they wished to give.

Their first public appearance was the Christmas Concert given in December; the Junior High Boys' Glee Club and interpretive dancers from the girls' gym classes also participated.

The solo and ensemble district contest was held in February; several participants from MHS entered. The Winter Concert, also in February, was presented by the Concert Choir only, the serious mood of the songs was broken by the individual groups which added variety to the evening.

One of the most exciting and inspiring events of the year occurred in March. Six schools participated in the Choral Festival which took place at Calumet High School. Four hundred voices in combined choirs sang under the direction of a guest conductor.

The final concert of the year was the Spring Concert. This concert was presented with a light, gay, and colorful atmosphere demonstrated by the songs, scenery, and by the formals and tuxedos worn by the choir members. The Concert Choir sang for the last time at Baccalaureate exercises.

Spanish Club grows into one of our largest clubs.

Viva El Español

Spanish Club exceeded one hundred members again this year, proving Spanish is becoming more and more a popular language. The club placed third in the Homecoming float competition repeating its performance of last year with the slogan "Viva Pirates." The Christmas party was held in December with the annual "Canciones de Navidad." In order to make the Christmas season a merrier one for a poor Spanish family in the Gary area the club donated a basket of food.

The annual Spanish banquet proved to be a most successful event. The food, served in the traditional Spanish manner, gave the members a chance to sample unusual food. A pinata was made and when broken it was found to be filled with candies and small prizes. The entertainment for the evening included the third year students singing "La Cucaracha" and the fourth and first year students gave short skits. The cafeteria was decorated cleverly depicting Spanish scenes.

This year the German Club showed a record membership with over one-hundred members.

The first of many activities was the building of an unusual Homecoming float. The club also decided to have a roller skating party as a pre-Christmas activity.

With an increased membership, the club managed to have its first Christmas banquet held in the school cafeteria. Members enjoyed traditional German food and entertainment.

The major spring activity was a field trip to German Town on the north side of Chicago. Here members gained a first-hand experience of German life by eating at a German restaurant and seeing a German film.

Speech Club Rings Loud and Clear

The goals and aims of the Speech Club include promoting interest in speech, improving and expanding the Speech program of Merrillville, and to further speech work. The club participated in the Ball State Speech Contest with entries in humorous interpretation, original interpretation, poetry, dramatic interpretation, and extemporaneous speaking. They also entered the Highland speech contest and co-sponsored the annual Fine Arts Program. As fund-raising projects, the members held bake sales and a sock hop.

To become a member, a person must have taken one year of speech or be enrolled in a speech class. He must then submit his name to the sponsor, Mr. Morrow and his petition would be voted upon by the Speech Club members.

Science Club Officers: L. Lovall, Sec.; T. Novotny, Sgt.-at-arms; M. Kelley, Treas.; J. Flora, Vice-Pres.; Mr. Vermillion, Sponsor; D. Djukic, Pres.

Dedication to the study of science in all of its many aspects is the main purpose of the MHS Science Club. The club was originally formed under the guidance of Mr. Vermillion and has been under his sponsorship since then excluding one year.

All members are presently a junior or senior studying chemistry or physics, sophomores may join with special permission from Mr. Vermillion. All students must maintain a "C" average in their science course or be dropped from membership.

The project of the club every year is to successfully launch the rocket, the activities steadily pushed ahead with the addition of the static firing pit.

Logical Set Adds Interest to Math

The Logical Set, in its second year at M.H.S., is an organization devoted to stimulating student interest in the various fields of advanced mathematics. Under the able sponsorship of Mr. Maneer, the club participated in many activities. Some of these were decorating a homecoming car and planning field trips. One of the Logical Set's major projects of the year was the planning for construction of an electronic computer for demonstrative purposes.

Members of the National Honor Society are chosen by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and outstanding character. They must show a deep responsibility to serve the school and others.

To become a member of the NHS a grade average of 3.25 must be maintained. A total of 5% of the sophomore class, 10% of the junior class and 15% of the senior class are eligible to be members.

The Society, under the sponsorship of Mr. Hutchison, participated in a number of varied and interesting activities. The NHS entered a float in the annual Homecoming parade, continued its work in fund-raising projects, and its tutoring services. Also, a new constitution was adopted this year.

Organizing Homecoming Week, displaying the new Merrillville High School flag, setting up a code for students pertaining to honor and dress, and writing a handbook for use by all sophomores and transfer students were a few of the services accomplished by the Student Council this year.

The Council changed tradition by setting up a turn-about Homecoming dance which seemed quite successful from the increased attendance.

Continued this year were the annual duties of decorating the school lobby and halls at Christmastime and the Senior Breakfast and Junior High orientation which terminated the year.

Future Homemakers of America is a club devoted to the idea that quality is possible in everyday life.

Under the able sponsorship of Mrs. Seale and Mrs. Kirtland, the FHA completed an active and profitable year.

The major project of the year was a Christmas basket for a needy family in Ross Township. This year, as in the past, clothing and toys were donated by club members. On the receiving end this year was a mother and her five children, one of whom is retarded.

In addition to this project, FHA members went to district conventions in the fall and spring.

One of the outstanding activities of the club this year was a trip to Chicago to see My Fair Lady.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization for all students interested in a teaching career. The Future Teachers of M.H.S. actively filled their year with projects. Serving as usherettes for the November Open House held during National Education Week, for the student's parents, was one of their first duties.

To further Christmas cheer, the members held their annual party and present giving ceremony for the area's Special Education Class. Observation Day and a formal dinner for the installation of new officers terminated a school year under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Spurr.

THESPIANS OFFICERS—Yvonne Patellis, Vice-President; Kathy Taylor, Secretary, Brian Lunsford, President; Kathy Catlow, Treasurer; Robert Pendleton, Reporter; and Sponsor, Mrs. Lynch.

The purpose of Thespian Troupe No. 1692 is to promote the standards of excellence in dramatic arts. To become a member of the Thespians, a national organization under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lynch, a total of ten points must be acquired by acting in plays or assisting in their production.

Highlighting the year's activities was the annual banquet held at the end of the year. Trophies were awarded for outstanding performances of acting and technical work in all three class plays. Other activities included a trip to Chicago to see the Broadway musical "Oliver," and something different in the way of a fundraising activity was tried, very successfully. The Thespians produced three one-act plays and presented them during an evening performance.

Nurses Club in First Year

This was the first year for Merrillville's Future Nurses Club. The new club was organized under the sponsorship of Mrs. Meyer, the school nurse.

From a petition started in 1963 by Marcia Mundell, president, Future Nurses Club has grown to a small but actively functioning organization.

The aim of Future Nurses Club is to provide information and encouragement to those who show a desire to enter one of the many health fields.

Frequent field trips were a feature of this year's activities. Visits to the Methodist Hospital Career Night, Beatty Memorial Hospital, and a laboratory were among them.

One of the club's major projects this year was bringing Christmas cheer to the patients at the Lake County Convalescent Home.

Officers: (SEATED) Marcia Mundell, President; (STANDING) Claire Oosterhof, Treasurer; Marlene Gransinger, Secretary; and Judy Kuchar, Vice-President.

Lettermen Strive to Set Athletic Standards

The Letterman's Club represents the finest athletes from each of the sports Merrillville offers. It strives to promote good sportsmanship, clean living, and participation in athletics. To be eligible for membership, one must have earned two varsity letters in one or more sports.

Each year the club sponsors the Athletic Ball, one of the major dances of the year. Other activities and projects include a trip to an athletic event each year and selling candy to raise money for accessories for the athletic department's camera.

Nancy Northup, V. Pres.; Marilyn Raduenz, Sports chairman;
Sue Zimmer, Sec.; Linda Montgomery, Pres.; Mrs. Wilkerson,
Advisor; Roberta Molnar, Treas.;
Janet Hacker, Social Chairman.

The G.A.A.'s goal is to promote better sportsmanship and co-operation among girls. To be eligible for membership, a girl must attend the business meetings, participate in the weekly intramurals, and be initiated during her first year.

The weekly intramurals include such sports as volley ball, badminton, softball, shuffleboard, table tennis, and bowling at the Merri-Bowl to promote community co-operation.

G.A.A. completes its year by holding their annual awards banquet where the girls with high points receive pins, lavaliers, and trophies.

G.A.A. Promotes Good Sportsmanship

The Pirate teams were spurred to success by the faithful Pep Club support throughout the year.

Pep Club Chants Enthusiasm and Victories

"Pep up," has been the Pep Club's main expression this year. The Pep Club has done an excellent job this year to promote school spirit, not only for sports, but also other school activities. There were large and spirited pep blocks to back up our undefeated football team. The support which the club gave from the very first game grew and flourished until it reached its peak at the playoff game. But this enthusiasm did not die during the basketball season. At the Christmas Tourneys the Pep Club really came through for the team by backing them in winning the runners-up trophy against the Warriors of Calumet. Under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Jeffries the club held bake sales and a sock hop to raise money for the purple and white capes that are expected to be delivered next year. This membership was the first to elect officers to execute the business of the club and to organize committees for skits and signs for pep rallies and the school hallways.

Sunshiners Spread Cheer

The purpose of the Sunshine Society is to spread cheer. The motto is "Others" and Sunshiners try to live by it.

The new year began with the initiation of twenty-one new members at a formal candlelight ceremony. Sunshiners were represented in the Homecoming Parade by a car with a box decorated with a can of wax. The theme was "Out Shine 'Um." The money making project for this year was selling candy turtles. A contribution was made to Riley Hospital and other charitable organizations from the proceeds.

Other activities included caroling at various county homes and hospitals at Christmas. Special programs were planned to honor the parents and the installation of new officers. At the end of the year two new officers were selected and sent to Sunshine Camp for leadership training.

Audio-Visual is a service club designed to better acquaint the members with audio-visual equipment—cameras, recorders, and projectors.

Members, under the supervision of Mr. Woolridge, volunteer to do audio-visual work in the school and community. This may include showing films, making recordings, and assisting in plays and musicals.

The club also purchases a new piece of equipment for the school each year and takes an annual field trip.

Junior Hi-Y is a service club for sophomore boys. Its purposes are to stimulate clean wholesome sportsmanship, to serve the school in any way possible, and to promote good fellowship among its members.

Every year the members attend a major sporting event, this year the boys enjoyed an exciting hockey game between Chicago and Toronto. For the annual Athletics Banquet the membership selected the most valuable player in the major sports of football, baseball, basketball, and track. These senior boys were awarded trophies contributed by the Hi-Y.

Leading the Hi-Y this year were treasurer, Gail Pagel; John Johnson as Secretary; Coach Demaree as the sponsor; Al Patty heading the organization as president; and Bob Patty holding the office of vice-president.

Quill and Scroll is the honorary society for journalists. Membership is a distinct honor and is reserved for those members of the publications staff who meet the requirements set up by the national society and its local chapters. Scroll members must have demonstrated to the satisfaction of their adviser, the board of publications, or the school principal that they merit the award through high scholarship, journalistic achievement, and service.

According to the constitution members must be selected from the students enrolled in high school who at the time of their admittance meet the following qualifications: 1. they must be at least a junior or senior; 2. they must be in the upper third of their class; 3. they must have done superior work in some phase of journalism or school publications work; 4. they must be recommended by their supervisor; 5. they must be approved by the executive secretary of the society.

There are no annual dues. When a candidate applies for membership he pays a basic membership initiation fee. The society then provides the candidate with an official gold pin and a one year subscription to Quill and Scroll Magazine.

Other members of Quill and Scroll not present were Pam Heisterberg, Mary Gress, and Jim Nelson.

The tempo is always grinding away for the athlete. Hard work, practice, and more hard work fill the schedule for our boys. Through practice they gained in skill and knowledge.

In journeying to Merrillville's second undefeated season, a conference championship, and state rating, the Pirates main strength was a tremendous defense. This has to be considered one of the two greatest Merrillville teams of all time. Records fell to this gridiron machine in numbers—most passes intercepted, longest punt return (97 yards by Wayne Monroe), longest return of an intercepted pass (95 yards by Fred Maihofer), most tackles in one game by a team, most by an individual in one game (30 by Fred Maihofer).

Offensively, Wayne Monroe became the 3rd highest total offense leader with 1389 yards.

Al Schmidt became the leading scorer among linemen by amassing 24 points.

The qualities that stand out among many in the 1964 Pirates were pride, precision, purpose, teamwork, and great defensive ability.

Many schools have never had an undefeated season. In 1964 Merrillville experienced their second one;—hats off to a truly great performance—the proud Pirates of '64.

This year's reserve football team, which posted an impressive season record of 4 wins and three losses, was never completely out of any single game. The reserve defense followed in the footsteps of the varsity by allowing a very low 8.2 points per game. Although the defense was of exceptionally high quality, the team lacked one important element—a predictable offense. Had the offense been able to score just 16 more points in the right places, the junior Pirates would also have been undefeated.

This year's team was similar to every other team in that all the boys put out a maximum effort to improve themselves and the team. No attempt can be made to list individual players who were outstanding because such a list would include the whole team.

If the varsity coaching staff can improve these boys as much as the reserve staff has, they will be quite an asset to the varsity next year. Some of the most greatly improved boys this year were most valuable player, Tom Taylor, and team co-captains, Bruce Hodges and Tom Krafft.

in C.C. During Successful Rebuilding Year

This year's team began rather slowly, hampered by Levy's injury, but continued to improve with each meet. The addition of two sophomores, Duane Hill and John Lefevre, strengthened the squad considerably. Steady performance by two strong Juniors, Bob Boyd and Willard Bloede gave added strength to the number four and five positions on the team. A consistent Dave Stockler held down the number three spot and Duane Hill won the number two spot for himself by his great sophomore performances exceeding any yet produced by a Pirate Harrier as a sophomore.

Jim Rudd took over the number one spot from Roger Levy in the first meet this season and never again lost it for the remainder of the season. Rudd proved his sophomore performances by setting a new record this year of 9:52 for the two mile course at Gleason; breaking Jim Aeschlaman's old mark of 10:10 set in 1963. Jim won the respect of many runners in the area by placing sixth in the sectional meet just seconds away from qualifying for the regional.

The northwest area this year had a great deal of basketball competition. Gary Roosevelt, Gary Froebel, East Chicago Washington, and Valparaiso were ranked numbers one, two, five, and eight in the state, respectively. This does not include Tolleston, Hammond Noll, Highland, and Calumet and Hammond, all of which received votes in the UPI and AP rankings. Even for a good team, it is hard to come up with an average record. This year our fighting Pirates finished up with a 13-10 record, losing to fifth ranked East Chicago Washington in the semi-finals of the E. C. sectionals. East Chicago went on to win the sectional title.

Although losing in the sectionals and ending the season with an average record, we did pull some upsets and near upsets during regular season play. The second game of the Lake County Holiday Tourney, we upset previously unbeaten Crown Point to advance to the finals. However, we lost to Calumet, eventual co-champion of the Calumet conference, and we had to settle for second place. Not all was lost, however, for Al Schmidt received the award for the most valuable player in the tourney.

Riding the upset trail, we upset Highland on a last second basket by Al Schmidt, thus inflicting Highland's (the other conference co-champ) only loss in league play.

Still riding high, we tussled with Calumet, but eventually lost by a mere four points for a real heartbreaker. The following day we finished up our conference schedule with a 6-5 record. On February 26, we played our first game of the sectional, whipping the Bulldogs of Crown Point 71-67, thus avenging a conference loss and besting the Bulldogs two out of three for the series.

Five returning lettermen helped the Pirates to a 13-10 record this year. Playing their last game of their high school careers were Mike Kelley, Al Schmidt, Wayne Monroe, Howard Gearhardt, and Jerry Fox. The rest of the team was composed of Bill Schmidt, Arlen Pierce, Pat O'Brien, Ron Swanson, Don Swanson, Greg Popovich, Ron Eich, and John Morton.

Pirates Beat Rival Bulldogs 2 Out of 3

Pat O'Brien penetrates the defense of two Griffith players for another Pirate basket.

Junior Don Swanson turns an unsuccessful Pirate shot into a 2-point tip-in.

The Schmidt brothers, Bill and Al, added the one-two punch to this year's successful basketball team. Al led this year's team in scoring and Bill in rebounds.

Wrestlers Send One to Regionals

Wrestling is a sport unlike any other, in that individual efforts are stressed rather than team endeavors. Of course, there is still the spirit of teamwork evident when the boys on the sidelines shout words of encouragement to their fellow teammates. In this way, there is teamwork.

This year, the main determining factor was the various injuries incurred by team members during the season. In fact, at conference time there were five injured team members. In spite of this handicap, there were some outstanding grapplers. Fred Maihofer was the most outstanding of these; he went as far as the regionals at East Chicago Washington. Greg Johnston, injured at the time of the Gary Roosevelt meet, also had a very fine record this season. Mike Yelachich and Al Bodak had records of eight and four for the year.

Although Coach Kaiser expressed the opinion that there was not as much running and conditioning exercises as he would have liked, there was no indication of any slackness of the athletes physical abilities.

This year, as last year, the team presented an exhibition of wrestling fundamentals during the half-time of one of the home basketball games. During this performance the audience was shown a demonstration of the various techniques used by the team against their opponents. An explanation of the terms used was also given, clarifying the evaluation of the weight classes of the individuals.

Coach Kaiser is looking forward to next year's team, and he feels that there are some promising freshmen coming into MHS with which he can build his ambition of having better quality wrestlers on the team.

Greg Smith

The 1964 Merrillville golf team, under the direction of Coach Hutchison, compiled a record of 26 wins and 6 losses and finished first in the Calumet Conference. This was no surprise at all, considering the Pirates were among the pre-season favorites. Along with coming in first in the always tough Calumet Conference, the Merrillville linksmen finished a respectable 12th in the Indiana sectionals. Top golfers on the team were Jim Dobis and Jerry Gaede. Jim Dobis was lost to this year's team through graduation while Jerry Gaede moved to Crown Point and now will create part of the opposition to face the '65 Pirate linksmen.

This year's prospects look very good. There are four lettermen returning to this year's team: Greg Smith, Gail Pagel, Tom Troup, and Jerry Croell. With only one Senior on the team, Greg Smith, the team should be in the winning for the next two years.

Mr. Hutchison, coach of this year's team, expects a very good season's record from this year's linksmen.

The Merrillville baseball team, under the leadership of Coach Metcalf, finished out the regular season with a 9 win, 9 loss record. Yet the fighting Pirates fought their way to second place both in the Calumet Conference standings with a 7—4 record.

This year's squad team will lose five regulars from last year's squad through graduation, including All-Conference catcher, John Whetsel. John compiled the highest batting average in the conference with a .370 mark. In the overall seasons records Al Schmidt led the Pirates with a .392 batting average, followed by Tom Stiener with .370, and Rick Schmidt with .244. Tom Stiener led in the home run department with 2 followed by Al Schmidt with 1. Both Stiener and Schmidt accounted for all of the Pirates round-trippers. Bob Kiburz and Al Schmidt tied for the leadership in the runs batted in department with 7 apiece just ahead of Tom Stiener with 6. Wayne Monroe proved to be the speedster of the team stealing 5 bases for team honors.

Rick Schmidt was the mainstay of the pitching staff by compiling a 5 win 2 loss record along with a 1.58 earned run average.

This year's team will have 4 returning lettermen to strengthen the squad: Al Schmidt, Wayne Monroe, Jim Tuminello, and Dan Djukic.

Place 4th in Conference Division

Although the thinclads representing the Pirates finished an unimpressive eighth place in the conference, two school records were broken during the season. The 1:36.3 time for the 880 yard relay was cut to 1:35.2 by the four-man team of Gary Hill, Jim Castaldi, Mike Kelley, and Ron Clark. The 2 mile relay record of 8:58.8 was broken down to 8:47.2. The participants in this event were Dave Stockler, Jim Masterson, Walter Malis, and Jim Rudd.

Six returning lettermen—Ron Clark, Bill Franzen, Howard Gearhart, Mike Kelley, Jerry Knaga, and Fred Maihofer—added much to the team in experience and the diversity of events they performed in.

The four top point receivers were Ron Clark,

58½; Howard Gearhart, 32; Mike Kelley, 31½; and Fred Maihofer, 30. Fred Maihofer, shot-putter, and Mike Kelley, a high hurdler, were regional qualifiers.

In the Dual Meets Merrillville participated in, the team placed first in one of three trials. The Pirates' leadership consisted of Ron Clark, Jim Castaldi, and Gail Luttinen as tri-captains.

The best placements for the team as a whole were earned in Hobart and Divisional Relays, in which the Pirates placed fourth.

Hope for the coming season includes optimism for a better conference ranking. Also, there are plans to tie or improve our own school records in the several events offered.

ACADEMICS

The changing times and quickening pace toward superiority found the MHS faculty striving to achieve the best; to suit the needs of the student body's future. Many students find they should linger longer on those math problems or in writing that term paper. Others spend their study time day-dreaming about the big game Friday, the prom, or seeing "him" tomorrow morning.

What might look like mass confusion, is in reality the next issue of the MIRROR in the making.

Journalists Put Forth Much Effort to

The financial part of journalism class is handled by business manager Tom Novotny with the help of Tim Nelson and John Spitz.

Muffled curses and the steady click, click, click, of the mimeograph machine adds to the work, work, work of the MIRROR and MERRILLVUE staffs, under the guidance of Mr. Rajchel, sponsor. These students are a select group chosen by their junior English teachers to serve as staff members their senior year.

Reluctantly beginning in September, the staffs prepare for the coming year. They must learn the do's and don'ts of good journalistic writing. These students learn how to write meaningful and effective leads and news stories. Frantically they write and type stories so that an edition of the MIRROR may be completed every two weeks for Merrillville students.

Working on the yearbook requires a number of mastered tasks. These students must diligently sell subscriptions, write and rewrite copy, plan lay-out, find effective headlines, and meet deadlines. As March and the final deadline approaches, the staff often must stay many hours after school finishing the annual so that a completed MERRILLVUE may be sent to the publishing company and returned to Merrillville in May.

Words—the Music of English Class

The Speech Department is headed by Mr. Morrow. Not only do speech students learn to speak before an audience, but they also learn the fundamentals of dramatics. Speech students are required to make a play report.

They also have to do a great deal of research for their debate assignments. For the past few years Merrillville has participated in the Ball State and Highland Speech Contests. In these contests the students must memorize poetry, humorous or dramatic interpretation, and recite it before a group of judges. The Ross Township Optimists Club also sponsors public speaking contests where the students are given a title and then must write and recite their original oratory.

Mrs. Lynch is the director of the English Department. In Our English classes everyone must make at least one book report. The two semesters are divided into one each of grammar and literature, except in college prep in which the greatest emphasis throughout the year is placed upon literature and composition. Most of the English classes are able to see movies which help in the literature aspect of English.

Overhead projectors are utilized to show students their errors through class discussion.

Merrillville Becomes Internationalized

Mr. Markle prepares to show a film concerning life in Germany.

The languages offered at MHS are Spanish, Latin, and German. Spanish ranks first in enrollment, followed by Latin, and, finally by German.

Languages are taught differently than they were even last year. A language laboratory has been installed to help students with pronunciation and practical speaking of the language. The dull grammar exercises are now substituted with interesting tapes. The lessons in the book are followed with corresponding tapes, enabling the student to gain the greatest amount of understanding from them. The laboratories consist of individual booths, equipped with a headset. This allows the student to hear a native speak and then the student repeats or expresses his response.

A variety of tapes are used, giving the students an opportunity to answer questions at the conclusion of each segment. Many tapes consist of pattern drills based on grammar usage. This enables the student to drill himself on what troubles him the most. In order to give the students an idea of the country's culture, typical songs are played.

Last year was the first time that the language department participated in a state-wide contest sponsored by Indiana University. We had six semi-finalists in Spanish and one semi-finalist in German. The three winners from the Spanish Department won a six weeks trip to Mexico. It is hoped that this year's language department will prove itself as successful or more so than in the past.

Spanish lab students attentively listen to taped material as they follow a story in their textbook.

Students Prepare to Meet World Problems

Daily discussions were common on the world's economic situation and found students attentive and interested.

A variety of social studies courses are offered to students at MHS. World History is a sophomore elective course while United States History and Government and Economics are required of all juniors and seniors respectively for graduation. The study of these courses provides knowledge for the future by pointing out the errors and achievements of the earlier peoples.

World History, taught by Mr. Demaree, deals with the history of past and present peoples. Through it students are able to see the development of mankind from prehistoric times to the present times.

United States History, a junior requirement, is taught by Mrs. Spurr and Miss Triplo. This course enables students to see the growth and development of our nation and its policies. Through it students can gain an insight into our country's future.

Government and Economics is the only required courses for seniors. Each student spends one semester studying Government and one semester studying Economics. The course is taught by Mr. Armontrout, Mr. Talmadge, and Mrs. Spurr. Government promotes an understanding of our Federal departments in action. The course was highlighted this year by the presidential elections. Economics helps the individual understand the economy of our country and points out its strengths by comparing it to other economic systems.

Through these social studies courses, students are prepared for college and for being better citizens.

Math and science are important foundations for students in our modern world. For budding young scientists, advanced biology, chemistry, and physics are offered at Merrillville.

Advanced biology is a continuation into the science of biology, which deals with the origin and life history of plants and animals. Students prepare projects, such as cancer growth in white mice, to aid in their "book learning."

Chemistry is the study of the composition of substances and the laws that govern them. Physics delves in the scientific study of matter and energy. Experiments are used in both classes to give a clearer understanding of the two fields.

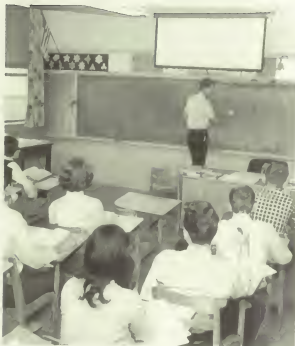

The math courses offered at MHS are algebra, geometry, advanced algebra, and trigonometry.

Algebra acquaints students with the basic principles of equations containing unknowns. Advanced algebra expands these basic concepts and challenges students to solve equations with two and three unknowns.

Geometry students engage in the study of lines, angles, and surfaces.

Trigonometry is an elective which is usually taken by college bound seniors. It is the mathematical study of relationships, of the sides of triangles to their angles. The students also touch on the fields of solid and coordinate geometry and calculus.

The math department hopes to provide a fifth year of math at MHS in the near future.

Math and Science Prove Challenging

The use of the balance scale is demonstrated by Mr. Vermillion to one of his chemistry classes.

Lines—Both Creative and Constructive

Correct procedure in Drafting I is explained by Mrs. Semokaitis who substituted for him during his illness.

The art classes periodically exhibit their projects in the lobby display windows.

The drafting and art departments, under the supervision of Mr. Semokaitis and Mrs. Lewis respectively, teach students how to put lines to work both constructively and artistically.

The complete drafting course of three years consists of three separate courses all different but related to each other. Sophomore drafting, a combination of all the courses gives the student an idea as to what field of drafting he wishes to specialize. Architectural drawing gives the student a more advanced course in the design and construction of a house. Machine drafting gives the student highly technical study of the drafting used in industry.

The art department made up of four courses lets the student express himself through many types of artwork. Reed constructions, mosaics, sculpture, ceramics, pencil technique, oil painting, and free hand sketching are a few of the projects to keep the student occupied. The best of all work done by the art department is chosen for display in the main lobby.

Home Ec Is the Key for Future Homemakers

What happened Kevin?

Margene Waffler industriously works on her basic wool dress for Clothing II.

Our Home Economics department is divided in 8 sections of study. Home Economics students for the first year receive instruction from Mrs. Kirtland in cooking and nutrition. Mrs. Seale teaches fundamental sewing, grooming, and personal care. The second year is cooking again, more advanced sewing, and fiber study.

Those girls interested in Home Economics as a major enroll in the third year course which is also divided into two sections. Mrs. Seale again teaches the sewing. Under her guidance the girls learn every detail involved in making a good fitting garment. Also included is a thorough study of clothing line, style, colors, and many other facets of design. The second sections of this course under Mrs. Kirtland's direction is Homemaking. In this course the students learn about the making of a good home. This starts with preparation for marriage, and then goes into marital problems, the raising of children and the budgeting of money.

The final year of Home Economics is Interior Decoration and Modern Nursing and Baby Care. Mrs. Kirtland instructs the future mothers on the problems and adjustments of a practical home nurse.

Mrs. Seale teaches the final section which is Home Design and Interior Decoration. For 9 weeks the girls learn different housing construction, architecture design, the cost of building, and different types of building materials used. Also stressed are the household utensils and kitchen planning and arrangement. The final six weeks covers interior decorating.

Home Economics is worthwhile for all girls as an aid for personal care and the building block for future wives and mothers.

Home Economics students show their work in Clothing I in the display window.

All anxiously watch to see if Marilyn Raduenz will add another point for her team.

Accent Placed on Physical Fitness

Warming up with a basketball skirmish is a daily part of the boys' gym class.

In This Year's Gym Classes

This year the accent in the physical education classes is on "Physical Fitness." Mrs. Wilkerson, the girls' gym teacher, made classes interesting for her students by starting each class with exercises done to music, plus various team sports, duel sports, and individual sports. Tournaments were held in all of these sports. Besides exercises and sports, the classes also were given study guides to help them with the rules of the games, as well as written and practical tests.

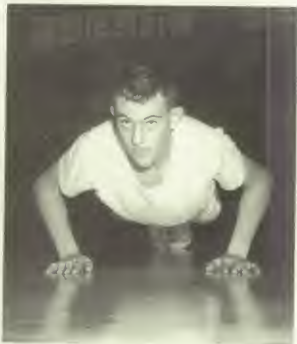

As well as these activities many dances, such as square dancing, folk dancing, modern dancing, and social dancing, were taught. Mrs. Wilkerson's dancers performed at many of the school concerts.

This year there was a student girls' gym teacher. Miss Shiela Guthrie, a student of Indiana University, taught the gym classes from March 29 to May 28.

The boys' gym classes, taught by Mr. Metcalf and Mr. Alhbrand, started the year with such fall sports as touch football, soccer, and speed ball, which were followed by inside sports, such as volleyball, basketball, tumbling, and individual sports (badminton, ping pong, handball), and finally, the spring sport, soccer. Also this year other activities, such as relays and group games (dodge ball, mass basketball) were played.

The boys' gym class also had a student teacher. Mr. Curtis Casbon, a student of Ball State, taught here eight weeks, starting the first week before Christmas.

John Shelhart is practicing for his physical fitness test.

All eyes to the right! In second year typing one of the fundamental rules is to keep your eyes on the copy.

Business Courses Extend Opportunities

Mrs. Brunton and Kathy Catlow run off stencils in Office Practice class.

One of the heaviest enrolled branches of learning at Merrillville is that of the business courses. Among the courses included in this field are Typing I and II, Shorthand I and II, business machines—general clerical, bookkeeping, general business, and business math.

The basic fundamentals of typing are taught in Typing I, while production tests are administered in Typing II.

Shorthand I and II consists of basically building up speed and accuracy. Also speed drills are given periodically.

The combined courses of business machines and general clerical consist of one semester each. In business machines class students learn to operate adding machines, electric typewriters, mimeograph and mimeoscope machines.

Bookkeeping consists of learning the process of keeping books for businesses. At the end of each semester bookkeeping practice sets are passed out in which each student keeps books for a certain business.

General business and business math teach the fundamentals of business transactions and the different types of math used in businesses.

For the first time at M.H.S. department heads were assigned. The head of the business department is Mrs. Bovard. One of her jobs is to assist students in deciding what field of business they want to enter and help to place them.

Shorthand students achieve speed and accuracy under the assistance of Mrs. Bovard.

This year's bookstore, under the direction of Mrs. Brunton, was run very efficiently by Nancy Kay, Dorothy Rhode, and Jolene Pawlicki.

In All Aspects of The Business World

Students of shorthand learn to read, in addition to writing shorthand.

Mr. Lenig assists Diana Bascom with her typing skills.

Phil Stepp finds a power sander a great help in Wood I.

When one thinks of a course in the industrial arts department, it is usually thought of as a snap course. This was at one time true, but now it is the exact opposite. To receive an A in any of the shop courses, one must show talent, ability, and above all, fine workmanship. The industrial arts department, headed by Mr. Semo-kaitis, consists of five shops, all separate but interrelated shops.

Although drafting is officially classed as an industrial arts course, there is actually little work done in the other shops. The other four shops in this area are machine, electrical, wood, and automotive.

Wood shop, taught by Mr. Kaiser, consists of a series of three year courses. In Wood Shop I the student learns how to handle the various tools and use this knowledge he gains to build simple projects. Wood II and III are similar to Wood I but are advanced to the point where the student uses the available power tools.

Students Learn Manual As

Mr. Bergherm instructs Tim Ellis and Bob Szillage on how to repair their car.

Mr. Wooldrige seals a picture in plastic to preserve it.

Well As Mental Skills

The basic principles of electricity are revealed to the student by Mr. Berghern and Mr. Novak in Electricity I and II. In Electricity I the student constructs simple electrical circuits and the basic electric motor. In Electricity II the procedure of how to wire a house is taught.

The two year course of metal shop acquaints the student with all facets of metalwork. In Metal I the student is familiarized with all the basic hand tools and a few power tools. In Metal II the student uses milling machines and lathes to make more complex projects such as gears. Welding, sheet metal, and foundry are all explored in each year's course.

The final shop, the auto shop, is under the direction of Mr. Berghern. How to repair a car and its parts is the main point stressed. This three hour course trains the student for future jobs as mechanics.

Metal shop I teaches the student the correct way to run the power lathe.

A L B U M

Our years spent at MHS are accentuated with measures of everyday activities, key-noted by the annual highlights. The extra long football practices, the bus rides to Band contests, and borrowed English assignments, and even the special events will be forgotten. But the memory and the shared experiences of our friends will remain with us in the future.

Nostalgia Sets in on Seniors—Farewell

As time draws to a close for the Senior Class, minds turn to reminiscing over the past four years of high school. The Class of "65" was the last group of students to be dubbed "Freshman." As freshmen, many new doors were opened to us, but still others were opened only after initiative, creativity, and hard work were employed. New teachers, ideas, and study habits took awhile to become accustomed to, while the social and club activities were plunged into wholeheartedly.

Our first project as a class was to build a float for the Homecoming parade. This was the first time that we worked as a unit for a school function.

Freshman year didn't involve too many projects. It was mainly a year for learning, hard study, and becoming used to accepting responsibilities.

Sophomore year was also started off with preparation for Homecoming festivities. This year, many of us found ourselves engaged in more outside activities. Some of us were club officer; others were class officers and class representatives.

This was the year that we put on our first play, The Mouse That Roared. Many of us tried out, but only a few could have parts. Many of us then found ourselves engaged in behind-the-scenes preparation.

Our executive board picked out the class rings. We were the first class to be allowed to order them our sophomore year so that we would receive them as soon as we got back to school in September. The board chose a blue stone with the Merrillville Pirate mounted on top.

At the end of the sophomore year, many who had studied hard their first two years of high school were rewarded by being accepted into the National Honor Society. Five per cent of the sophomore class was accepted at this time.

As upper classmen, the Juniors found themselves working extra hard for a good entry in the Homecoming parade. We tried with the band and shared the first place trophy with them.

It wasn't long after Homecoming that we started planning for our Prom. The executive board met. Theme and committees were chosen. After months of preparation, our prom, entitled Whispering Sands, was held for the Seniors. Janet Hacker and Rick Putz reigned as king and queen.

Our junior play, George Washington Slept Here, broke all previous records for tickets sold for a class play. Again, much time and hard work was put into this production.

In March the Athletic Ball was held. Daria Olson, who was the junior queen candidate, was chosen to reign as queen.

Boys and Girls State representatives were chosen our junior year. Val Domianus, Kathy Catlow, Glenn Smith, and Greg Smith were chosen to attend. Glenn Smith was also chosen to be our representative at the Governor's Youth Advisory Committee.

The Spanish department was rewarded when Yvonne Patellis, Marcia Peters, and Linda Palm earned a trip to Mexico for six weeks of study. They competed in a written and oral examination and were personally interviewed. All three were chosen to go. Claire Oosterhof attended the Latin workshop at I.U. during the summer. Karen Johnson went to Europe with the Junior Classical League during the summer.

Our final year found us again preparing for our last Homecoming. The parade, dance, and game festivities were worked on by everyone. Our cheerleaders worked extra hard to make the festivities a success. Jerry Fox was Mr. Football, and Carole Derr was Homecoming Queen.

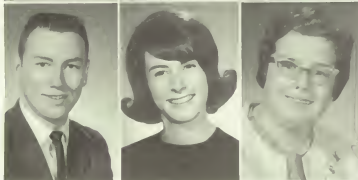

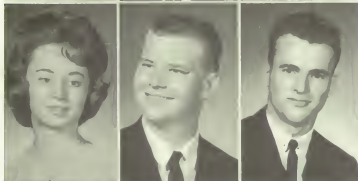

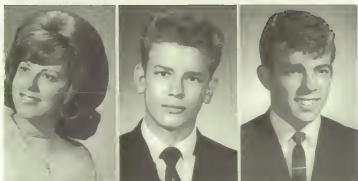

Our football team had an undefeated year which made all of us very proud. They tied with Portage for the Calumet Conference title. Al Schmidt was chosen for the All-State Team.

Pam Heisterberg was chosen by the student body to receive the D.A.R. award. At the Optimist dance held in November, Pam Heisterberg and Glenn Smith were chosen to receive the Optimist award for being the outstanding girl and boy in the senior class. In the Home economics department, Carol Miller scored the highest on the Betty Crocker test and received the Betty Crocker award for our school.

Instead of the traditional drama presented by the senior class, we presented the first musical ever to be presented by a senior class. Bye Bye Birdie proved to be a great success.

The senior executive board chose the graduation announcements and paid for the bench, which was our senior gift to the school. During basketball season, our team took the second place trophy in the Christmas tourneys.

In the days, weeks, months, and years which have passed before us, there are memories and experiences which we will always remember. Graduation, our last time together as a class, will be remembered by everyone.

Our Homecoming Queen Carole Derr sits in radiant splendor surrounded by the loveliness of her court: Elaine Belusky, Marianne Mahoney, and Marilyn Gill.

Athletic Captains Stand Out

Co-captains of the wrestling squad this year were Dennis Eaton and Fred Maihoffer. Dennis wrestled at 180 lbs. and Fred at Heavy Weight.

Piloting the undefeated Merrillville football squad were Fred Maihoffer and Wayne Monroe. Fred and Wayne both made honorable mention at all conference.

Special recognition should be given to the captains of our various athletic teams. These boys were selected for their superior skill they exhibited in the various sports they participated in. To receive this honor they had to demonstrate leadership and the will to work hard. Their efforts, along with our fine coaching staff, produced our winning teams.

The basketball squad was guided by co-captains Mike Kelley and Al Schmidt. Mike played guard, and Al a forward.

Heading the Pirate 1965 track squad were Mike Kelly and Fred Maihoffer. Mike runs the hurdles, and Fred throws the shot.

Juniors Prepare for One More Year

Junior Class Officers for 1965 were Debbie Braatz, treas.; Nancy Podunovich, sec.; Marilyn Mundell, vice-pres.; Bill Myer, pres.

As the second year of high school comes to an end, the class of 1966 feels completely satisfied with their accomplishments. Receiving the class rings brought with them the true feeling of being "upperclassmen." Everyone found the gold banded rainbow stones as wonderful as their expectations.

Directing the class talents and efforts brought forth the first successful project of the year—the "Key to Victory" homecoming parade float. Its entrance into the competition won the place of honorable mention.

Next came the Junior Class Play—a big hit with MHS students. Although the cast consisted of only nine members, six boys and three girls, the whole class was involved in the business, back-stage, and publicity for the production. Despite a near blizzard outside, the auditorium was filled to near capacity both Friday and Saturday night, proving the confidence of the community and student body in the performing excellence of the class.

While keeping them busy by requiring long hours of hard work and concentration, chemistry and Algebra II introduced Juniors to new concepts in math and science. Literature directed them toward new horizons of understanding in challenging them to read such literary works as "Our Town" and modern poetry by E. E. Cummings.

The Yuletide season passed and found the Junior class deeply engrossed in finishing up their plans for the Junior-Senior Prom to be given May 1. The thought of finally preparing their own prom was something to work hard for and enjoy a great deal.

In late May they confidently elected their new class officers, knowing they would do a good job.

The Junior class added more than their share of the cheering in pep sessions.

Jim Koczercut and Bill Schmidt hold the key to victory for the Fighting Pirates, while representing the Junior Class.

TOP ROW — D. Hill, president;
 J. Jones, treasurer;
BOTTOM ROW — P. Kay,
 vice-president; S. Simpkins, secretary.

This is the sophomores first year at M.H.S. Their first experience as a working group was for Homecoming. They entered a float in the parade with the title "Born to Win."

Many sophomores have gone out for sports and they have learned what is expected of them. High school athletics are very important and we hope the sophomores will have their continued support. To back the reserves the cheerleading squad has worked hard and has also given support to the varsity squads.

This year the sophomores have learned how important good study habits are. For those who have excelled this year, they were tapped in the spring for National Honor Society. This is a great honor for any sophomore and those who were tapped should be very proud.

At the prom this year eight sophomores were asked to serve. This is a task that is fulfilled by the sophomores every year at prom time. They not only are permitted to serve but they can attend the post prom party later in the evening.

The sophomore executive board chose their class rings this year.

Under Mr. Gran's direction the sophomore class presented their first class play, A Murder has been Arranged. The class worked very hard on it and it was a success for them.

This year has been very important for the sophomores and very rewarding. As juniors they will be more busy and will still have many new experiences awaiting them.
